

PETER MARSH PRIZE IN ECOLOGY OR CONSERVATION

Mr and Mrs J Marsh have endowed this prize in memory of their son Peter Marsh, who was a student at Royal Holloway College from 1979 to 1981. The prize may be awarded each year to an undergraduate student of the College, who will normally be in the second year of his/her course of study, and will take the form of a bursary to assist with a field project in ecology or conservation.

Conditions of award:

1. The award is given to an undergraduate student of the College, who will normally be in the second year of his/her course of study, to assist with a field project in ecology or conservation.
2. The value of the prize will vary depending on the project and the amount available in each year.
3. The prize will be awarded by a committee consisting of the Head of the School of Biological Sciences and two other members of staff concerned with ecology or conservation. The award will be reported to the Student Awards Committee for formal recommendation to the Academic Board.
4. Recipients of the Prize are required to submit a brief report of the activities for which they have utilised the Award. This report will be published on the Royal Holloway Travel Awards and College Prizes webpage.
