Royal Holloway Psychology Competition 2020: Rules and regulations

The rules

General rules:

• Teams must be made up of between 2 and 5 students in year 12
• Each school can submit a maximum of three teams to the competition
• A member of school/college staff must register their teams by 5pm 30th April 2020 (registration will close sooner if all 30 team places are filled!)
• Teams must produce a video and poster that answer this year’s competition question—see below for further details. The poster and video should complement one another.
• A member of school staff or other responsible adult must attend the event with their team(s)
• All entries must be the original work of the team
• All teams must submit their video entry by noon on Friday 12th June 2020 (details below)
• All teams must be able to attend the event on our campus (Egham, Surrey) on Wednesday 1st July, 2020 and display their poster (details below)
• Teams will receive feedback on their entry on the day, through interactions with our judges, and with Royal Holloway staff and students

Video rules:

• Must be no longer than three minutes
• What you do in your video is completely up to you, so long as you answer the question: “How can psychology help us to understand current events?”
• Must be uploaded to Vimeo (https://vimeo.com/upload) by Friday 12th June at 12 noon—once you have uploaded your video, please send Dr Luke Kendrick (luke.kendrick@rhul.ac.uk) a link to your video.
• All videos entered into the competition could go online and be publically available on the Royal Holloway website and/or YouTube channel.
• Please only include people in your video with their permission

Poster rules:

• Must be size A1
• You must be able to print and bring your poster to the event on our campus (Egham, Surrey) on Wednesday 1st July, 2020
• What you include in your poster is completely up to you, so long as you answer the question: “How can psychology help us to understand current events?” Your poster and video should complement one another.
• Each team will have an allocated poster board at the competition event where they must display their poster and be prepared to answer questions about it during their allocated poster presentation slot.

What are our judges looking for?

• Communication and presentation skills
  o Are the video and poster clear and easy to follow? Do the team explain their poster well to people?

• Understanding of psychology
  o Are the key concepts successfully described? Do the team have an excellent knowledge of their chosen topic?

• Originality
  o Are all of the team’s ideas their own? Is there something unique about their video or poster?

• Creativity
  o Are the video and poster exciting and creative? How have they tackled the question?

Do you have a question which isn’t answered here? Email Dr Hannah Broadbent (Hannah.broadbent@rhul.ac.uk) or Dr Luke Kendrick (luke.kendrick@rhul.ac.uk)

DATES TO REMEMBER

1. Teams must be registered by 5pm Thurs 30th April, 2020
2. Teams submit their 3-minute video entries by noon on Friday 12th June
3. Teams attend the competition day at Royal Holloway University with their posters on Wednesday 1st July, 2020