

Partner University	What is the full academic load in terms of courses and credits (ECTS, Australian or US) for one year of study for a full-time student?
Arizona State University	The full academic load is 15 credits per semester and 30 for the academic year.
Boston College	The full academic load is 15 credits per semester and 30 for the academic year.
University of California	The full academic load is 15 credits per semester or term depending on which campus you apply for.
University of Florida	The full academic load is 15 credits per semester and 30 for the academic year.
George Washington University	The full academic load is 15 credits per semester and 30 for the academic year.
Mount Holyoke	The full academic load is 32 credits for the academic year (usually 8 courses).
Washington College	The full academic load is 32 credits for the academic year (usually 8 courses).
Flinders University	The full academic load is 36 units for the academic year.
University of Melbourne	The full academic load is 100 points for the academic year.
University of Queensland	The full academic load is 16 units for the academic year.
University of Sydney	The full academic load is 48 credit points for the academic year.
University of Western Australia	The full academic load is 48 credit points for the academic year.

Partner University	What is the full academic load in terms of courses and credits (ECTS, Australian or US) for one year of study for a full-time student?
University of Alberta	The full academic load is 15 credits per semester and 30 for the academic year.
Concordia University	The full academic load is 15 credits per semester and 30 for the academic year.
University of Ottawa	The full academic load is 15 credits per semester and 30 for the academic year.
University of Toronto	The full academic load is 5 credits for the academic year.
Victoria University of Wellington	The full academic load is 120 points for the academic year.
University of Hong Kong	The full academic load is 30 credits per semester and 60 for the academic year.