

What are your accommodation options?

ROYAL HOLLOWAY
UNIVERSITY OF LONDON

Find out what your accommodation options are with this quick flowchart.

On page 1 pick the most important thing to you when thinking about university halls. Click on the box, or follow the coloured line down to the corresponding page.

From there, make your choices about what you would like out of accommodation and you will be matched with the halls which best fit your requirements. Click on the box to learn more about the band you have been matched with.

Feel free to take the quiz as many times as you like to see the various options we offer!

For any terms you don't understand, check out the glossary at the start of the quiz.

Glossary of terms:

30/38 week contract: The length of time you can stay in halls. 30 week contracts tend to be lower cost, but require you to move out of your room during the Christmas and Easter break. You will move back into the same room after each break.

Catered: Instead of having a full kitchen and cooking for yourself, you have access to a pantry, and will take your meals in the Founder's dining hall, the Hub, or KW's. Our catered system is pay as you go, which means you top up your student card with money and receive a 50% discount off food (+20% VAT) from designated dining halls.

En suite: Your bedroom has access to your own bathroom, which includes a shower, sink, and toilet.

Halls of residence: Our student accommodation is often referred to as Halls of Residence, or Halls.

Pantry: Catered accommodation has access to a pantry instead of a full kitchen where residents can prepare hot drinks and light snacks. The pantries include fridge space, toaster, kettle, microwave, sink and table and chairs.

Self-catered: Self-catered halls have full kitchens fitted, including fridge and freezer space, access to an oven and hob, and sink.

Single gendered: These halls are split into all male or all female corridors.

Low annual cost: When discussing a low cost, please note we are considering the overall cost of accommodation for the year rather than the cost per week. For longer tenancies, the cost may be lower per week but higher in total.
